ROYAL SOCIETY OF CANADA: FELLOWS NAMED

A former University of Alberta student and two professors have been inducted into the Royal Society of Canada.

The Right Honorable Roland Michener was elected an Honorary Fellow of the Society for his "great contribution to the encouragement of learning and Canadian life." Mr. Michener, Governor General of Canada from 1967 to 1974, holds a BA and an Honorary LLD from this University. It was in his honor that Michener Park, the housing complex for married students, was named in 1967.

Satoru Masamune, Professor of Chemistry, and Norbert R. Morgenstern, Professor of Civil Engineering, were elected Fellows of the Society.

Dr. Masamune's election was based on his advances in synthetic chemistry and his contributions to methods of synthesis. He is directly involved with the Hydrocarbon Research Centre which conducts both basic and applied research in reserve exploration, processing and upgrading of Canada's hydrocarbon resources.

Dr. Morgenstern was elected to the Society for excellence in the field of earth science. He has conducted research on landslides and slope stability and has worked on the prediction of foundation stability and on the sampling and testing of permafrost.

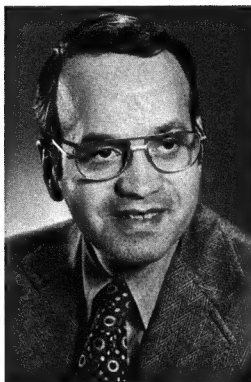

The Royal Society of Canada is a national academy which endeavors to recognize distinction and to stimulate achievement in science, the humanities, and the social sciences by the election of Fellows and the awarding of medals, prizes and scholarships. At present the Society has 827 members.

VOLUME ELEVEN, NUMBER FIFTY

APPOINTMENTS

Myer Horowitz has been appointed Vice-President (Academic) by the Board of Governors effective July 1, replacing Henry Kreisel. He has been Dean of Education here since July 1972. Prior to that he had been named Professor and Chairman of the Department of Elementary Education in 1969, leaving the position as Assistant Dean of the Faculty of Education, McGill University, Montreal to take up the appointment. He holds a BA from Sir George Williams University, Montreal, an MEd in Educational Administration from The University of Alberta, and a doctorate in Elementary Education from Stanford University, California. He has served as president of the Canadian Committee on Early Childhood, Edmonton Chapter of Canadian College of Teachers, Early Childhood Education Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association, and the Education Society of Edmonton.

Charles M. Lockwood has been named to a five year term beginning July 1 as Director of the Department of Extension. Effective November 1 the department will assume faculty status. At that time Professor Lockwood will become dean. Joining the staff of the Department of Extension in 1963 as an assistant professor he had the responsibility of expanding the department's involvement in continuing education for the professions and management. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1964 and became a full Professor in 1971. Since 1968 he has served as Assistant Director of the Department and has been Acting Director for 16 months. He holds a BAsC in Mining Engineering from the University of Toronto and an MBA from this University.

VISITORS

- E. Irving, Earth Physics Branch, Department of Energy, Mines, and Resources, Ottawa, conducted a geophysics seminar in the Department of Physics.
- Jack Nichols, Department of Microbiology, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, conducted a seminar in the Department of Biochemistry.
- Harry C. Andrews, Department of Electrical Engineering, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, conducted a colloquium in the Department of Computing Science.
- George Mandler, University of California, San Diego, conducted a series of seminars in the Centre for Advanced Study in Theoretical Psychology.

PEOPLE

- R.D. McMaster, Professor of English, was elected to the executive of the Humanities Research Council of Canada at its meeting held during the Conference of Learned Societies.
- D.B. Robinson, Professor of Chemical Engineering, presented a paper at the Ninth World Petroleum Congress which was held in Tokyo. The paper was co-authored by P.R. Bishnoi and D.Y. Peng.
- Mary E.P. Henderson, Director of the School of Library Science, has been appointed to the National Library Advisory Board for a three-year term.
- John E. McNerney, Associate Professor of Biology at the University of Victoria, has been appointed Director of the Bamfield Marine Station. The appointment, which takes effect July 1 for three years, was made by the Management Council of the Western Canadian Universities Marine Biological Society (WCUMBS) of which The University of Alberta is a member. D.M. Ross, Dean of the Faculty of Science, is President of WCUMBS.

- Jiri Chlumecky, Acting Assistant Director of the Health Sciences Animal Centre, has been appointed Assistant Director of the Centre.
- C.M. Rodkiewicz, Professor of Mechanical Engineering, acted as one of the chairmen and presented three papers at the 1975 National Canadian Congress of Applied Mechanics.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION COMPLEX HOURS EXTENDED

In approving an increase in the 1975-76 operating budget for the Faculty of Physical Education the Board of Governors has made it possible for the extension of hours of recreational use of the facilities. The new hours of operation represent a considerable increase over those existing, to a maximum of 11 additional hours on Sundays and holidays and 9 additional hours on Saturdays. Under this arrangement the hours of operation would be from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. on all of these days.

The total cost of extending the services will be $53,000 required primarily for staffing purposes. This being an experiment, the extension of hours will be subject to review by the Finance Committee of the Board of Governors in April 1976 at the end of the trial period which commences this September.

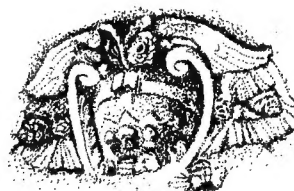

Mrs. W.J. Downs, former president of the Friends of the University, presents a representative volume to Vice-President (Academic)

Henry Kreisel, who paid tribute to 20 retiring professors honored at a recent ceremony. The book is Chaucer's Works.

HOT CAF, MOVE OVER

For five years now the cafeteria staff in the Central Academic Building have made available, at exactly 9 o'clock every morning, a tray of plump, sweet cinnamon buns named after CAB's predecessor, Hot Caf. Those buns are a legend, and deservedly so; anyone who has tried to buy one as late as 9:45 a.m. knows just how popular they are.

The recipe for the buns was published in Folio more than four years ago; we're still receiving requests for copies of that issue but we've long since run out.

This year, as a tribute not to a building but to the green spaces and meticulously-tended gardens on campus, Folio offers readers a recipe that is seasonal in nature and appropriate to this time of year. It was brought to our attention by Helge Welling, Greenhouse Supervisor in Plant Science, and is taken from Gourmet, the magazine of good living. Those fortunate enough not to have the main ingredient in great abundance in their own gardens could ask the University grounds-keepers to give them what they collect.

Weed Soup

Gather about 2 quarts of tender young pigweed greens. Wash them twice in cold water, picking over them each time for odd bits of grass and stray leaves that may have become mixed in, and drain them in a colander.

Stir the weeds into a large kettle containing about 5 quarts of boiling water; bring the water to a second boil and cook the weeds, uncovered, for 2 or 3 minutes. Drain the weeds in a colander, let them cool rapidly in a pan of ice cold water, and drain them again. Chop the weeds coarsely and set them aside.

In a soup kettle cook one scant cup of salt pork, cut into matchstick strips, over low heat until it is nearly crisp. Stir in 4 or 5 tablespoons of minced onion and cook it until it is translucent. Add 5 cups of water and bring it to a boil. Add a generous cup of potatoes cut in half-inch cubes and 1½ cups of the chopped pigweed. Cook the mixture gently until the potatoes are almost tender. Bring the mixture to a rapid boil; gradually stir in ¾ cup of quick-cooking oatmeal and reduce the heat. Simmer the mixture for 3 to 5 minutes, add salt and pepper to taste, and serve the soup very hot. The yield is a scant 2 quarts of very thick soup.

NOTICES

COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT FORMED

The following letter from H.E. Gunning, President, has been addressed to all members of the academic staff.

Among the many obligations of a University such as ours is a commitment to the international community.

This affects The University of Alberta through the foreign students who study with us, and through the direct involvement of faculty on leave of absence and through the research of colleagues related to matters of international development.

At the present time we have no procedure to bring together the many facets of this international concern. This creates difficulties in dealing with funding and scholarship agencies, and with our responsiveness as a University to external requests.

I have therefore appointed a President's Committee to advise me on such matters and to act on my behalf on issues relevant to the concerns described above.

The membership is: J. Forster, Associate Dean of Graduate Studies and Research (Chairman); M. Horowitz, Dean of Education; F. MacHardy, Dean of Agriculture and Forestry; E. Chambers, Dean of Business Administration and Commerce; C.F. Bentley, Professor of Soil Science; W. Gainer, Professor of Economics; F. Enns, Associate Dean of Education; J.J. Richter, Professor of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology; and R.C.W. Hooper, Dean of Men.

LOOKING FOR EQUIPMENT?

The following notice has been received from W.H. Jopling, Co-ordinator of Technical Services.

All equipment on campus has not yet been inventoried; however, several people already have made use of the equipment inventory to determine if particular equipment is on campus. It is planned to have all the equipment inventoried by the end of March 1976. At the present time there are approximately 30,000 items on the inventory file.

The more common reasons why people have inquired whether a specific item of equipment is on campus are: They would hope to make use of the equipment either by having the work done or by borrowing; they are contemplating buying a similar piece of equipment and wish to find out how it performs; their piece of equipment is not operating properly and they wish to see how a similar item operates.

Campus Security has made considerable use of the inventory by obtaining the serial numbers of stolen or missing equipment.

If you have any reason to enquire whether a particular item of equipment is on campus, the people involved with the inventory are located in 6-29 Mechanical Engineering Building, phone 432-5835. Ask for Lloyd Stodgell, Bruce Cathcart, Joann Morton or Bill Jopling.

RECENT APPOINTMENTS IN THE OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER

Lanny Howell has recently been appointed Accountant and Mrs. Audrey Shologan Assistant Supervisor for the Special Funds Division. Mrs. Shologan replaces Ted Bialowas who has been transferred to the position of Accounting Supervisor of the General Accounting Division.

Maurie Fluet, the former Accounting Supervisor of the General Accounting Division, is now the Accountant in charge of that division. He was promoted when Bob Leonard was promoted to Administrative Accountant—General.

Derek Cox has been appointed Office Manager and Supervisor of the Travel Division.

AASUA TO DISCUSS CHILD CARE FACILITIES

The Association of the Academic Staff of The University of Alberta (AASUA) recently undertook an informal survey of the need for child care facilities for academic staff. Such a need has been demonstrated, and a meeting to discuss the results of the survey and possible courses of action has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 24 at 2 p.m. in 107 Law Centre. All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Further information and confirmation of the meeting time can be obtained by calling the AASUA office at 432-5918 or 432-5321.

FITNESS TRAINING PROGRAM FOR SWIMMERS

R.D. Kirstein, Director of Aquatic Programs in the Faculty of Physical Education, has set up a fitness training program which can be used by all regular recreational swimmers and any others who would like to start a regular program to improve their personal fitness.

The program can be followed by individuals on their own, and those who wish to achieve one of the Royal Life Saving Society Fitness Award Levels can register in the pool office and be examined when ready. There is a registration fee of $3.

A display has been set up at the north end of the West Pool and those who are thinking of starting the fitness program are encouraged to see it.
